Executive Summary

Four business dimensions, one consistent story: strong top-line growth, thin retention, and clear operational levers

Growth is concentrated

São Paulo and 5 categories drive the bulk of $15.84M in revenue — a growth engine, but also a concentration risk.

Retention is the biggest lever

97% of customers are one-time buyers. Champions & Loyal customers are ~37% of the base but drive the majority of revenue.

Marketing efficiency varies sharply

Organic search delivers the highest revenue and customer value; email converts at just 3% and needs review.

Delivery delays cost revenue

Review scores fall sharply past 10 days of delivery time; $2.77M in revenue sits with customers rating 1-2 stars.

Top 5 Categories by Revenue ($M)

KEY INSIGHT Revenue is heavily concentrated: São Paulo alone drives the largest share of sales, and the top 5 categories account for the bulk of revenue — signalling both a growth engine and a concentration risk. High-selling categories with below-average review scores flag where commercial success is outpacing customer satisfaction.

Customers by RFM Segment

KEY INSIGHT Champions and Loyal Customers make up ~37% of the base but drive the majority of revenue, while At-Risk and Lost customers (18K) represent a sizeable win-back opportunity. With repeat purchase rate at just 3%, retention — not acquisition — is the biggest lever for growth.

KEY INSIGHT Organic search drives the most value — highest revenue ($235.9K) and CLV ($870.69) despite lower volume — while paid search leads on customer acquisition. Email underperforms with only 3% conversion, making it the clearest candidate to optimize or cut.

KEY INSIGHT Delivery speed is directly tied to satisfaction and revenue: scores drop sharply past 10 days, and slow states (RR, AP, AM) average 25+ days. With 15% of customers rating 1-2★, $2.77M in revenue is at risk — faster delivery in these regions is a clear lever for retention.

Strategic Recommendations

01

Invest in retention

Only 3% of customers repeat-purchase. Launch a win-back program for the 18K at-risk customers, who already represent 23% of revenue.

02

Fix delivery in RR, AP, AM

These states average 25+ day delivery vs. a 12.5-day norm and are the biggest driver of low review scores and the $2.77M revenue at risk.

03

Reallocate marketing spend

Shift budget toward organic search (best revenue & CLV) and away from email (3% conversion) pending a channel-level review.

04

Protect concentration risk

Top 5 categories and São Paulo drive the bulk of revenue — diversify category and regional mix to reduce single-point exposure.
